Ryan S. Parker

PARTNER

Ryan focuses his practice on insurance defense litigation, including first-party property and third-party liability claims.

For Ryan Parker, a partner in the firm's St. Petersburg office, there is no substitute for meticulous preparation when defending his clients' interests. His proclivity for thorough research and creative thinking allow him to develop the most persuasive arguments that give his clients the best chance of a positive outcome.

Understanding that his insurance industry clients need frequent, transparent communication as well as effective advocacy, Ryan focuses his practice on insurance defense litigation, including first–party property and third–party liability claims. Before joining the firm, Ryan worked for a well-established firm in St. Petersburg where he defended auto-negligence and first–party property cases. Ryan also was a paralegal for almost ten years before embarking on his career as a practicing attorney.

Ryan earned his law degree, cum laude, from Stetson University College of Law after attending Champlain College. Ryan enjoys spending his time away from work with his wife and two dogs.
