Anthony focuses his practice on auto-accident defense, premises liability, and product liability.

Anthony Maroun is an associate in the firm's Palm Beach Gardens' office, where he focuses his practice on premises liability, auto-accident defense, and product liability. He combines a systematic approach with outside-the-box thinking to provide a thoughtful and thorough analysis to his clients.

Following his honorable discharge from the U.S. Marine Corps (2002-2007), Anthony graduated cum laude from the University of Florida with a B.A. in Political Science and a Minor in Latin America Studies. After working at the West Palm Beach VA Hospital as a medical administrator, Anthony went back to school to earn his J.D. from Nova Southeastern University Shepard Broad College of Law with a Concentration in Health Law. While a student at NSU, Anthony was a member of both the Moot Court Society and the NTA Trial Association and partook in the Adults with Intellectual and Development Disabilities Clinic (AIDD), educating clients and their loved ones regarding the rights and obligations related to obtaining a guardianship. During law school Anthony also interned for the Florida Civil Rights Coalition.

Prior to joining Traub Lieberman, Anthony has practiced in the field of premises liability including personal injury, wrongful death, dram-shop defense, and Fair Housing cases, as well as workers' compensation insurance defense, defending employers and insurance companies in workers' compensation claims. He is licensed to practice law in the State of Florida.

Anthony enjoys reading a good history book, watching sporting events (UFC or anything Gators/Patriots/Celtics) and searching for the next fun waterfall trail in the southeast to hike. Anthony is a non-native Spanish speaker.
