Corey R. Zaron

PARTNER

Corey focuses his practice on a range of cases including general liability, premises liability, and commercial litigation.

Corey Zaron is a partner in the firm's Palm Beach Gardens office, where he represents clients in general liability, premises liability, and commercial litigation matters. He assists and works with clients in all stages of litigation from inception through judgment and everything in-between. Corey's experience also includes representing major carriers in first party property actions as well as individuals in third party liability and subrogation matters.

Prior to joining Traub Lieberman, Corey gained experience as an associate at a Palm Beach County law firm, practicing insurance defense and litigation. He began his legal career at a West Palm Beach law firm, representing clients in worker's compensation matters, and eventually transitioned to representing property insurance carriers across Florida. He is a member of the Palm Beach County Bar Association and Young Lawyers Division. Corey is licensed to practice in Florida as well as the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida. He earned his law degree from Stetson University College of Law and served on the Stetson Law Review. Corey is also a graduate of Florida Atlantic University where he earned his bachelor of arts in English.

Corey is a South Florida native and outside of his legal career he enjoys motor racing and spending time with his family, friends, and two dogs.
