Zachary T. Fried is an associate in the firm's New York office, where he focuses his practice on general liability, premises liability, products liability, insurance coverage/reinsurance, and medical malpractice. Zachary applies meticulous attention to detail to all of his cases, with an emphasis on client communication and outreach, as well as thorough research and organization.

Prior to joining Traub Lieberman, Zachary was an associate at a general civil law practice in New Jersey, where he handled a wide range of personal injury and medical malpractice cases, as well as commercial litigation matters, commercial and residential real estate litigation, and estate planning matters.

Zachary earned his Juris Doctorate degree from the Maurice A. Deane School of Law at Hofstra University, and his Bachelor of Science degree in Political Science from Franklin & Marshall College, where he was a 4-year member of the NCAA soccer team.
