Traub Lieberman Partner Michael Logan and Associate Christian Romaguera Win Summary Judgment in Favor of Electrical Maintenance Company

Related Attorneys: Michael D. Logan

In a matter brought in Miami-Dade County, Traub Lieberman Partner Michael Logan and Associate Christian Romaguera won summary judgment in favor of their client, a company responsible for the maintenance of wooden electrical poles (the "Company"). The Plaintiff alleged that the Company's negligence caused him to suffer a serious neck and back injury while he was working as a double-decker tour bus guide. The Plaintiff claimed permanent injuries along with $200,000 in past medical expenses. The Traub Lieberman team asserted that the Company was not responsible for the Plaintiff's injuries and obtained a summary judgment in favor of the Company.
