Patrick Bailey is an Associate in the firm's Palm Beach Gardens office, where he focuses his practice on general liability, premises liability, and commercial litigation. He has substantial experience in products liability and appellate law. He has experience drafting dispositive motions in state and federal court, drafting appellate filings for appeals and attending hearings for trial support.

Pat earned his undergraduate degree from Stetson University and his law degree from Florida State University College of Law. While in law school, he served as the executive editor for the Florida State Law Review.

Outside of the practice of law, Pat enjoys running, reading, playing with his two young daughters, attending baseball games, watching Formula 1 racing, and brewing his own beer.
