As an associate in the firm's St. Petersburg, Florida office, Aaron Brock prides himself on representing his clients with relentless diligence and unwavering determination. Aaron is a seasoned litigator who focuses his practice on liability defense matters, including construction defect litigation, commercial litigation, premises liability, and professional liability claims. He strives to provide clients with clear and effective communication, creative legal strategies, and practical, client-tailored legal solutions.

Before joining the firm, Aaron honed his craft working in a wide variety of practice areas, including maritime law, utilities law, commercial litigation, catastrophic personal injury and wrongful death litigation, property law, and insurance coverage disputes. Aaron has represented clients in both state and federal courts in Indiana and Florida, as well as guiding clients through the administrative law proceedings before a variety of state agencies and local governments.

An Indiana native, Aaron and his family have established strong roots in the Tampa Bay area. Outside of work, Aaron enjoys spending time with his wife and son, playing basketball and golf, and enjoying the great outdoors.
